Please note. Unless you have a multiple day public transportation pass, it is advised that guests purchase an MTA Metro Card worth at least $6.75, though a card worth $11.25 would cover subway rides to and from the tour. Q: Can you give me directions to the tour and back from the tour?

A: We have provided Google maps for both the tour starting and ending points. Google maps allows you to input your starting or ending address (hotel, house, etc) and will give up updated and accurate walking, driving and most importantly mass transit directions. Get directions to the tour by clicking the thumb tack on our Google map. Get directions from the tour by clicking the thumb tack on our Google map.

Q: What is an appropriate tip/gratuity?

A: Another good question. Since our tours are free, and we work just for tips, it's really up to you; how you like the tour and what your financial situation is? These are important determinants. With that said, we average between $25 and $30 per person. However, we like to think of our tours as "name your own price". You let us know what you think. Don't like the tour? Don't waste your money! Love it? Then we appreciate whatever you feel is fair. How can you beat that?

Q: Do the tours ever get cancelled for weather?

A: The show must go on! Dress appropriately for the conditions. Comfortable walking shoes are recommended. However, extreme weather will certainly cancel or postpone the tour. Please see our Facebook page for updates.
