Q: Do the tours ever get cancelled for weather?

A: The show must go on! Dress appropriately for the conditions. Comfortable walking shoes are recommended. However, extreme weather may cancel or postpone the tour. Please contact us for updates. Our NYC number is listed above.

Q: What is an appropriate tip/gratuity?

A: Another good question. People always ask why we offer a tour for free that our competitors charge $20/person. Well, we feel that everyone should have the opportunity to enjoy a tour at a price they can afford, so just think of our tours as "name your own price". You let us know what you think. Don't like the tour? Don't waste your money! Love it? Then we appreciate whatever you feel is fair. We are that confident in the quality of our tours. How can you beat that?

Q: Can you give me directions to the tour and back from the tour?

A: The best way to reach the tour is via the 4 or 5 Express (green) trains at Bowling Green Station. If you are coming from Midtown Manhattan and Upper East Side, make sure you exit from the northbound platform to Bowling Green Park (not Battery Park). The Charging Bull is just north of the station exit on the northern tip of Bowling Green Park at 26 Broadway. Just walk north on Broadway when you exit the station.

The tour can also be reached via the 1 local train (red) at South Ferry Station. If you are coming from Midtown Manhattan and Upper West Side, you can take the 2 or 3 Express (red) to Chambers Street Station and transfer to the 1 local train across the platform. Leave the South Ferry Station and follow State Street northbound until you reach Bowling Green Park on your right. The Charging Bull is at the northern tip of the park.

The tour can also be reached via the R local train (yellow) at Whitehall Street Station. From Midtown Manhattan and Queens, you can take the Q (yellow) express train southbound to Canal Street and transfer to the R local southbound. Leave the Whitehall Street Station and follow Whitehall Street north (away from ferry landings) till you reach Bowling Green Park on your left. The Charging Bull is at the northern tip of the park.

Please note that occasionally some stations are closed on weekends maintenance. Therefore, we have provided Google maps (above) for both the tour starting and ending points. Google maps allows you to input your starting or ending address (hotel, house, etc) and will give up updated and accurate mass transit directions. Please be sure to check with the Mass Transit Authority for updates on subway and bus closures.

Q: Where is the best place to eat after the tour?

A: That's a good question. With over 24,000 restaurants in NYC, it's really difficult to say what is the best. I strongly recommend using review sites like Tripadvisor or Yelp. For Yelp reviews of restaurants near the the tour's end, click here. You can always visit Chinatown a short walk from the tours end. We've listed some suggestions.

For the best pizza in the area, we recommend Little Italy Pizza, 11 Park Place, 212.227.7707

For a delicious Cuban sandwich, try Sophie's Cuban Cuisine, 96 Chambers St. 212.608.9900
